

Dear Parents/Guardians,

The end of 3rd quarter is here and Tuesday, March 03, 2015 begins the first day of review for the exams and it will continue throughout the week. Students will be reviewing in class and given worksheets/practice sheets to take home for each subject. It is essential that your child is prepared for the exams by making sure you take the time to review with your child and that he or she is well rested. Below, you will find an overview of what you and your child can be expecting to find on the 3rd quarter exams. To ensure your child's success during the exams, your time and effort will only be beneficial. Thank you for your continuous support and cooperation.
